Expanding Literacy Connections Through the Arts: A Closer Look

The Broward County Cultural Division, Broward Center for the Performing Arts, Dillard Center for the Arts and the School Board of Broward County, present the fourth annual conference on arts integration—Expanding Literacy Connections Through the Arts: A Closer Look on August 15, 2007.

Due to its overwhelming popularity, this year's conference will be held at two venues - Broward Center for the Performing Arts, 201 SW 5th Avenue, and Dillard Center for the Arts, 2501 NW 11th St., in Fort Lauderdale, from 7:30 am to 4:15 pm.

Expanding Literacy Connections Through the Arts: A Closer Look is a hands-on, full-day of workshops that focuses on literacy instruction through the visual and performing arts, directed to teachers and teaching artists.

Workshop leaders are both celebrated local artists, distinguished Kennedy Center artists, and Loyd Artists (www.loydartists.com), who will offer participatory workshops on how to use the arts to teach and learn literacy and subjects.

For further information call Teresa Ford, Cultural Division at 954-357-8007; e-mail teford@broward.org.

FORT LAUDERDALE JEWELER DISCOVERS VINTAGE LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL MEMORABILIA AND IS GIVING IT AWAY TO STUDENTS, GRADS, AND ALUMNI FOR FREE

When Lords Jewelers purchased a laser-welding machine they had to make room for it and started pulling out old dust-covered boxes.

They had no idea what was inside of them. Some had old clocks, radios and key chains, but one marked "School" led them to a startling discovery, hundreds of 60's era, enameled high school pendants. New and most in original boxes they are from:

FORT LAUDERDALE HIGH
POMPANO BEACH HIGH
NORTHEAST HIGH
STRANAHAN HIGH
DILLARD HIGH
PINE CREST HIGH
ST. THOMAS AQUINAS

And some simply marked CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL.

Rather than trying to donate them, Lords Jewelers simply decided to give them away, one per customer to anybody who is a student, graduate, or alumni, while supplies last on a first come basis.

Stop by and pick yours up at Lords Jewelers 1918 E Sunrise Blvd. in the Gateway Shopping Center. (954)-764-6750.
